shema (hear, listen, wake up) israel (that part of me that is wrestling with God, trying to move toward my higher self,
Adonai (the large, vast, infinite aspect of God) Elohanu ("my" God, the God that I have a personal intimate connection with Adonai (back to the large, infinite aspect of God, Echad (is one: oneness is the feeling, reconciling of an large, vast impersonal GOD and a personal, intimate one; is recognizing the separation between who i want to be, and my struggle to be more like my vision, and the feeling of peace and acceptance of already being there; is trying to hear and wake up, and knowing that I am awake. for me the echad is a trusting, accepting, loving, floating feeling.....
