

1-33-6

JAN 14 1976

THE UNFINISHED CURRICULUM

After accurately reflecting with

as I was taught empathy;

And sharing the latest behavioral

self-control technology;

I saw him, through a partially pulled shade,

lonely and sad in the clinic parking lot...

And it hurt as no one taught it would.

J comment (2018): the Unfinished Curriculum is really poignant - the limitations of psychological "technology", and the pain of shared humanity. Really good.