

7 June 1979

Dear Deane,

I was very touched by your Birthday present and wish to thank you for being so generous to me with your time.

I think that I have made and am making some really good changes as a result of working with you, and I am especially happy about them because they feel like part of my basic personality, rather than attempts to make myself into something else. Thank you for your help and encouragement - and for an occasional, gentle push now and then!

Sincerely,