

mom's hug poem: Oh, this is so beautiful, sweetie. It made me cry! You hug me at all the right moments – which is any moment. I love how our hugs will always hold us, in the past, in the future, forever; and how they are part of the music we share and make together. Love you so much; of course you should post it. It's just so precious. Thank you for being such a loving, supportive, valuing partner. Love you, dear partner, and I hug you back! J
